Mr. RHEA proposed to amend.

Insert after the word message, "and such measures as may have for their object relief

After a lengthy discussion the question was taken on the adoption of the amendment, which resulted as follows:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

SPECIAL ORDERS.

Leave to bring in a bill to establish the town of Hardyville, in Hart county. Passed over.

Leave to bring in a bill to legalize a suspension of specie payment by all banks of issue in Kentucky.

Mr. WM. JOHNSON thought such a bill could do no good, but might do great injury, by creating the impression that our banks are in a precarious condition. He did not know that the banks desire the passage of such a measure.

Mr. GAITHER thought the bill would do a great deal of good, by giving the banks the power to accommodate. The banks were being run up, and he wanted them protected.

Mr. EWING thought the banks ought to have the privilege of suspending, provided they desired. They were surrounded by banks that had suspended; gold was in demand, and every bill or note they let out, was returned for the coin.

Mr. BURNAM was opposed to allowing the leave until the banks responded to the resolutions passed by this House on yesterday.

The leave was then granted and referred to Committee on Banks.

BANK COMMITTEE.

The SPEAKER appointed Messrs. F. Neil, D. P. White, and Ewing a committee to confer with the banks in relation to suspension of specie payment.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. HODGE offered the following resolutions, which were ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

Resolved, That the people of Kentucky view with profound grief and sorrow, the dangers which threaten the perpetuity of the Federal Union, that they cannot see it ruptured, impaired, dissolved, or weakened, without raising their voices in solemn and earnest remonstrance, and that they will not abandon the hope that it may be preserved, or cease their exertions to that end so long as their appeals are listened to by their fellow-citizens, or their efforts are permitted; and as an evidence of the sincerity of their desire that the calamities which overshadow it may ultimately be averted:

Be it further resolved, That we appeal by every memory of the common love and fraternal affection of the past, by every emotion of patriotism which can animate, and by every hope for the future welfare as a great and prosperous people, to our fellow-citizens of the Southern States to suspend any and every action tending to further secession upon the part of any State from the Federal Union;

Resolved, That while we thus appeal to the conservative sentiment of our fellow-citizens of the South, we deprecate and protest against the exercise of force or coercion upon the part of the Federal Government against any of the States or the citizens thereof who have seceded from the Union, and we invoke upon the part of the Federal Government a spirit of forbearance, moderation, and conciliation, convinced as we are, that a Union founded upon preserved by violence and force is not impossible but undesirable.

The question was then taken by yeas and nays upon the resolution as amended, which resulted as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Speaker, (T. P. Porter,) Alexander, Anthony, Barrick, Boles, Bruner, Cissell, Cosby, Davidson, Fisk, Gibson, Grover, Grundy, Irvin, Jenkins, Johnson, Marshall, McBrayer, Read, Simpson, Taylor, Wait, Walker, Walton, and Whitaker—22.

A Military Dictator.

The editor of a Republican journal, telegraphs from Washington that "the propriety of removing Mr. Buchanan, in case he recalls Major Anderson, and creating Gen. Scott Provisional President until the 4th of March next, is freely discussed."

"Freely discussed" by the Republicans, of course; just as some of them have already discussed the propriety of assassinating Mr. Buchanan, and that they may have free play for their anti-slavery purposes.

The Republicans desire to get rid of a President who will not wage war against the South; and the proposed "Provisional President" is admitted to be but another name for "Military Dictator." That is what these traitors want. They want as the Executive, somebody who will assert the supremacy of the sword over the Constitution, and over the Southern States that have resolved "to dare, and again to dare, and without end to dare," in defense of their rights and honor. They want a "Military Dictator," that Mr. Lincoln's rough work may be done for him beforehand, and that his inauguration may proceed without the troubles which seem likely to reach maturity two months hence.

Washington Constitution.

From New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 17.—Two thirds of the delegates elected to the Louisiana Convention are secessionists.
